DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 23-30 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claim 1-42 of U. S. Patent No. 6,226,237 since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the patent and is covered by the patent since the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: "a host-bus interface that is adapted to continuously connect the audio interface IC with the digital computer bus of the computer subsystem, said host-bus interface comprising transmission gates to selectively couple or isolate said digital computer bus and said CD-ROM drive," in claims 1, 12, 23, and 33 of US 6,226,237.

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant was prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application during prosecution of the application which matured into a patent. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000.

Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

1. Claims 23-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Koo, (US 6,006,337), as cited as Prior art dated 3/23/04.

2. As per claims 23, 24, 26, 27 and 30, Koo teaches a method for playing audio CDs in a computer system comprising the steps of:

- deenergizing a computer CPU;
- controlling a computer CD-ROM drive and a computer audio amplifier to play an audio CD without supplying energy to said CPU and
- selectively coupling or isolating said CD-ROM drive and a computer bus.

(Abstract, col.4, lines 49-col.6, lines 1-4)

3. Koo teaches of selectively isolating said CD-ROM drive and a computer bus (system bus, 21 or , Fig.1). Examiner is taking the position that said CD-ROM is isolated from the computer bus when switch 52 (Fig.1) is selected. Specifically, Koo teaches supplying power only to a CD-ROM system comprising compact disk drive controller, 49, compact disk drive 48 and audio circuit, 45. When switch 52 is selected the CD-ROM system alone is energized therein the CD-ROM system is electrically isolated from system bus, 21.

4. As per claim 25 and 28, Koo teaches a method further comprising the step of providing interface switches (51 or 52) to control the operation of said CD-ROM drive. (Fig.2)

5. As per claim 29, Koo teaches wherein the bus comprises a PCI bus. (Fig.5)
